EPSILON CHAPTER
DELTA KAPPA GAMMA INTERNATIONAL
OCTOBER, 2010

Master Gardener, Lori Unterseher, visited with Delta Kappa Gamma members on their fall garden projects. She discussed the importance of keeping a garden journal, what to cut back in the fall and what to leave, types of mulch, roses and fall chores. Members had many questions for Lori during this personal growth talk. Member Elaine Just provided an inspirational on the care and keeping of our soul's garden.

“Create a Buzz” Campaign Aims To Help Increase Visibility In Communities

The International Communications Committee has been promoting the “Create a Buzz” campaign with monthly suggestions on how to increase the visibility of the Society in communities and how to help members promote the Society. Each month “Create a Buzz” tips can be found on the International website. Among the tips offered have been to leave Society publications for others to read in teachers’ lounges, physician and hospital waiting areas and other places where citizens might pick up the publication to read. Members have been encouraged to write elevator speeches describing the Society for those who do not know of it. Chapters should submit press releases to local media about chapter projects and activities within the local chapters, members are encouraged to always identify affiliation with Delta Kappa Gamma when recognized for an honor or when published. To keep local members up-to-date a “webwatcher” is suggested. This person checks the website each week for new items on the state and international websites. Being informed keeps the “buzz” going.

Epsilon Projects

National History Day students attended the national competition and toured the Washington, D.C. area. Members Rose DesCamps, Jane Perman and Barb Gehrts are the instructors for this group. Proceeds from our Basket Auction helps to fund this project.
